

Flow rug, AC2 chair & Andersen Classic Ø125

Flow rug, A2 sofa & C1 coffee table

FROM USED WATER BOTTLES TO BEAUTIFUL RUGS

The Flow rug is designed with a specially developed felt material, made from recycled plastic bottles. The felt material consists of approx. 18 bottles per m2 and the recycled bottles get a new and valuable life.

Flow is Cradle to Cradle Certified® with bronze and produced in Denmark, in collaboration with EGE. Cradle to Cradle is a "cradle to grave" way of thinking, where the starting point is that the product must not strain our resources.

FLOW

Design Raket Riis Villesen

The Flow rug has a beautiful expression that plays with the idea of movement and life. The Flow rug adds a modern expression to the room with its warm colours and dark contrasts, created to compliment Scandinavian homes.

Flow is available in three sizes.

HIGH QUALITY WOOL FROM NEW ZEALAND

Flow is made from high-quality wool from New Zealand sheep, where their wool is known as one of the best and finest qualities in the world. The wool is free from abuse of the animals and with the guarantee that the animals get food, drink and plenty of room to move.

□ The felt material on the back of the rug is made from recycled plastic bottles

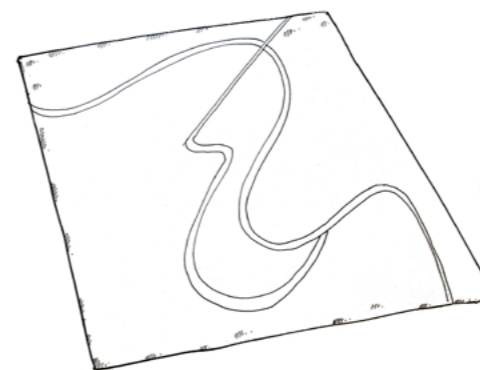

Flow consists of 80% high-quality wool from New Zealand sheep - the remaining 20% is polyamide

Cradle to Cradle certified – based on that the product must not have a negative impact on the planet

Flow Rug
Warmth and contrast for the home
- with a clear conscience
